ARCHIVING OF CHILD COHORT DATA

Growing Up in Ireland would like to announce that the Anonymised Microdata File (AMF) from Wave 1 of the Child Cohort (at 9 years) is now available from the Irish Social Science Data Archive (ISSDA) <http://issda.ucd.ie>

The dataset provides many of the key variables from Wave 1 of the Child Cohort (at 9 years) and has been prepared in such a way as to protect the anonymity and confidentiality of all participants.

Accessing the Data

Potential users wishing to access the anonymised data should apply to the Irish Social Science Data Archive (ISSDA) at <http://issda.ucd.ie>

Data Workshops

The first in a series of Data Workshops to promote and support the use of the data will be held on the provisional date of Wednesday 14th July 2010 from 10.00am to 2.30pm at the offices of the Economic and Social Research Institute in Dublin. Those interested in attending a Growing Up in Ireland Data Workshop should contact guiworkshop@esri.ie

Subsequent workshops will be scheduled in response to demand. Places in each workshop will be strictly limited and allocated on a 'first-come first-served' basis.

Growing Up in Ireland is a Government study. The Department of Health and Children is funding it through the Office of the Minister for Children and Youth Affairs in association with the Department of Social Protection and the Central Statistics Office. The Office of the Minister for Children and Youth Affairs is overseeing and managing the study. Growing Up in Ireland has been designed and is being carried out by a consortium of researchers led by the Economic and Social Research Institute (ESRI) and Trinity College, Dublin.
