Dear Deputy Murphy

I refer to your parliamentary questions below which have been forwarded to me for attention. Firstly, please accept my apologies for the delay in issuing a response.

PQ 10655 25 - To ask the Minister for Health if she has read the consultant report relating to operations at Cappagh and Temple Street hospitals (details supplied); and if she will make a statement on the matter.

PQ 10656 25 - To ask the Minister for Health if she is aware of the allegation that monetary gain may be a factor in the number of operations; and if there are plans in place to widen the scope of the review into operations at Cappagh and Temple Street hospitals (details supplied).

PQ 10657 25 - To ask the Minister for Health if, in relation to the report on the consultant report relating to operations at Cappagh and Temple Street hospitals, she is aware of whistleblower concerns that this has been going on much longer than the two-year timeframe of the current review; and whether there are plans in place to look at earlier periods (details supplied).

Details supplied: Unnecessary operations on child patients at Dublin hospitals

Children's Health Ireland (CHI) Response:

Children's Health Ireland (CHI) and the National Orthopaedic Hospital Cappagh (NOHC) confirmed in July 2024 that it would undertake a joint clinical audit to look at a random and anonymised sample of DDH surgeries performed during the 2021-2023 period, after a concern was reported that the threshold criteria being used for surgical intervention in relation to DDH may have been different across CHI sites and NOHC. The audit is being conducted by a UK Paediatric Orthopaedic Consultant with specialist expertise in this area.

The audit is not yet complete, and so we cannot provide any details of its findings, and we cannot comment on any media reports in relation to the audit, as to do so would undermine the integrity of the audit process.

CHI and NOHC are committed to improving access to quality care across our services and regularly undertakes quality assurance checks in line with HSE standards.

About DDH:

Developmental dysplasia of the hip (DDH) is a condition where the "ball and socket" joint of the hip does not properly form in babies and young children. Babies diagnosed with DDH early in life are usually treated with a fabric splint called a Pavlik harness. Surgery may be needed to correct the issue.

About HSE Healthcare Audits:

A Healthcare Audit is a cornerstone of healthcare sector governance. Audits provide unbiased, objective assessments of whether the delivery of services are managed responsibly and effectively to achieve the intended results. These assessments help the health services and the HSE's Risk Committee achieve accountability and integrity, improve operations, instill confidence amongst stakeholders and assist with the creation of a safety culture.

Note on clinical Audits:

Clinical audits involve reviewing healthcare practices against agreed standards and then recommending changes or actions to address any gaps in meeting the standards, with the purpose of improving the quality of the service. They are guided by current international best practices.

Where an audit finds gaps between practice and the relevant standards, it usually makes recommendations that could be made to improve service quality at system level.

Yours sincerely
