Deputy Joe Cooney
Dáil Éireann
Leinster House
Dublin 2

PQ 50013/25

To ask the Minister for Health the rationale behind the recent decision to award a contract for non-emergency patient transport in the greater Dublin area to a private ambulance provider; if there are further plans to privatise non-emergency patient transport in other health care regions; and if she will make a statement on the matter. -Joe Cooney

Dear Deputy Cooney,

The Health Service Executive (HSE) National Ambulance Service (NAS) has been requested to reply directly to you in the context of the above parliamentary question which you submitted to the Minister for response.

There is no plan to outsource the NAS Intermediate Care Service, who continue to do a fantastic job, both responding to the needs of our patients and supporting patient flow across our acute hospital network.

In stark contrast, the HSE's National Service Plan in 2025, has provided for 24 additional posts in this service to facilitate expansion in both the South West and Mid-West Regions this year. 22 new EMTs commenced induction and a period of adaptation on 3 June 2025 (unfortunately, 2 candidates have dropped out).

Separately, we have submitted a bid to the HSE Estimates process, for 42 further posts in 2026 to create six new seven-day ICS crews, one in each HSE Region. It will be a matter for decision makers to accept or reject our proposals, based on the budget assigned to the HSE by Government next year.

We are proud of the work of all our staff in NAS and will continue to advocate for further increases in our directly employed workforce in our Intermediate Care Service.

In summary, we want to be clear, NAS is not proposing to outsource our Intermediate Care Service now or in the future. NAS remains fully committed to staffing and expanding the Intermediate Care Service and continuing to deploy this valuable service in line with the PHECC EMS Dispatch and Inter Facility Transfers Standards.
