“How do we get better at improving care?”

GUEST SPEAKER

Professor Mary Dixon-Woods, Director of THIS Institute and The Health Foundation Professor of Healthcare Improvement Studies in the Department of Public Health and Primary Care at the University of Cambridge. She is a fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences and the Academy of Medical Sciences, an honorary fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, the Royal College of General Practitioners, and the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists. Mary served on England’s National Advisory Group on the Safety of Patients in England, which produced the Berwick report in 2013. Mary’s programme of research is concerned with generating a high quality evidence-base to support improvement in the organisation, quality and safety of healthcare. Characteristically using mixed-methods approaches, her work focuses on evaluation of quality and safety improvement interventions and programmes, culture and behaviour in health systems, and regulation and governance of health research and care.

OUR CO-HOSTS ARE

- Dr. John Fitzsimons, Clinical Director with the National Quality and Patient Safety Directorate and Consultant Paediatrician at Children’s Health Ireland at Temple Street, and
- Juanita Guidera, Quality Improvement Facilitator with the National Quality and Patient Safety Directorate.

Please note that this session will not be recorded.
