Learning outcomes

At our upcoming webinar, you can:

- explore an overview of the prospectus and how to use it,
- identify potential learning opportunities available depending on your learning needs,
- ask our subject matter experts about the courses advertised in the prospectus, and
- connect with others interested in quality and patient safety.

This session includes breakout rooms so that you can speak with the subject matter experts. If you are joining by phone or with a group, you can also stay in the main webinar room. We look forward to welcoming you then.
