

Trinity Health Kidney Centre launch

March 14th: World Kidney Day

at 5.30 P.M.

Postgraduate Centre, Tallaght Hospital, Dublin 24

The Nephrology clinical service at Tallaght and St James's Hospitals is forming a strategic alliance with the academic Nephrology Department in Trinity College under the auspices of Trinity Health Ireland. The name of this is the “Trinity Health Kidney Centre” and it will combine clinical expertise, excellence in undergraduate and postgraduate medical education and cutting edge research into kidney disease.

To mark this event we are holding a launch event from 5.30pm on 14th March 2013, World Kidney Day (www.worldkidneyday.org) in the Postgraduate Centre on the Tallaght Hospital campus. There will be three 15 minute talks describing what this means for patients and family doctors in the catchment area of Tallaght and St James's Hospitals, and for care of patients with kidney disease further afield. This will be followed by refreshments and an opportunity to meet the team.

Please contact Nicola Warren (Nicola.Warren@amnch.ie) for more information and to confirm attendance
