

HSE Antimicrobial stewardship (AMS) guidance

for all healthcare settings

Date: 15th November 2022

Venue: The Morrison Hotel, Ormond Quay Lower, Dublin

Time	Topic	Speaker
10:00 - 10:30	Registration (Tea/coffee and pastries)
10:30 - 10:40	Official launch “HSE Antimicrobial stewardship guidance for all healthcare settings (2022)”	Dr. Colm Henry Chief Clinical Officer, HSE
10:40 - 10:50	Welcome	Shirley Keane Head of Service, AMRIC
Morning Session Chair: Dr. Eimear Brannigan, Clinical Lead, AMRIC
10:50 - 11:00	HSE AMS guidance for all healthcare settings- a focus on reducing unnecessary antibiotic use	Dr. Eimear Brannigan Clinical Lead, AMRIC
11:00 - 11:15	Delivering AMS for surgical patients to reduce unnecessary use	Professor Deborah McNamara Clinical Lead for Surgery
11:15 - 11:30	Delivering AMS in a residential care facility for residents to reduce unnecessary use	Annie Joseph CNM1 and IPC/AMS Link Practitioner, HSE Maynooth Community Care Unit
11:30 - 11:45	Delivering AMS in General Practice for community patients to reduce unnecessary use	Dr. Paul Ryan GP Advisor, AMRIC
11:45 - 13:00	Practical workshop: how to reduce unnecessary antibiotic use	AMRIC Team
13:00 - 14:00 Lunch
Afternoon Session Chair: Marie Philbin, Chief Antimicrobial Pharmacist, AMRIC
14:00 - 14:15	AMS, the Policy Perspective	Rosarie Lynch National Patient Safety Office, Department of Health
14:15 - 14:30	HSE AMS guidance for all healthcare settings- a focus on governance, structures and supports	Marie Philbin Chief Antimicrobial Pharmacist, AMRIC
14:30 – 14:45	Delivering AMS Governance in a hospital group	Prof. Colette Cowan CEO, UL Hospitals Group
14:45 - 15:15	Interactive session: local governance, structures and supports required for AMS	AMRIC Team
15:15 - 15:30	Close of workshop	Dr. Eimear Brannigan Clinical Lead, AMRIC

Presentation slides & workshop feedback from this event will be shared on antibioticprescribing.ie at <https://bit.ly/3o3vEyh> - go to AMS resources for healthcare professionals > General AMS resources

Join us on twitter during the event #AMSforall