Join us at our Pre-Congress Workshop at the IASP 2019 World Congress

Addressing Suicide Prevention in Ireland From the Bottom Up: Lessons from the Frontline

Hosted by Dr Gemma Cox (HSE National Office for Suicide Prevention), HSE Resource Officers for Suicide Prevention and Kate Wilkinson (Learning Community of Practice Facilitator)

Hosted by the Irish HSE's Resource Officers for Suicide Prevention Learning Community of Practice, this highly informative and interactive workshop shares the experience and learning from the frontline in developing and implementing 17 local multiagency suicide prevention action plans aligned to Connecting for Life, Ireland's National Strategy to Reduce Suicide, 2015-2020.

The workshop will set the context of the national strategy and local plans in the evidence for a systems approach to suicide prevention, that asserts that the best response is gained from a multi-sectorial, multi-factorial, systematic approach involving both healthcare and community professionals and organisations, along with government and non-government agencies.

Come and meet the people responsible for delivering this challenging goal, and hear directly what worked, what didn't work and what lessons were learned along the way, to inform your own suicide prevention work.

- Tuesday 17th September 2019, half day, Millenium Forum or City Hotel, Derry (TBC).
- Participants do not need to be registered for the Congress in order to attend a Pre-Congress Workshop, but SPACES ARE LIMITED, so book early.
- Pre-Congress Workshop registration (£60) is available at www.iasp2019.com