

Say it again and again

Children need to hear words lots and lots of times before they start to understand what they mean and later try to say them.

Find as many different ways to say the word as you can.

Apple:

Say 'apple', 'red apple', 'yummy apple', 'my apple', 'your apple', 'yucky apple!'

Repeating the same words over and over is a great way to help understanding and talking. Little ones need lots of repeats.

Nursery rhymes and story books are brilliant for hearing the same words again and again!
