Re: Access to iRefer for GPs and ICGP Radiology Quick Reference Guide

Dear Colleagues,

Many thanks for your continued support in delivering the GP Access to Community Diagnostics scheme, which gives GPs access to X-ray, CT, MRI, and DXA and is available to the full population aged 16 years and over. In addition, GP Access to Community Ultrasound provides ultrasound to those aged 16 years and over, with a GMS/HAA/GP Visit card.

Previously access to the iRefer Guidelines (published by The Royal College of Radiologists (RCR)) was available to GPs via the Healthlink website. This has changed and you can now access the guidelines here <https://www.irefer.org.uk/>

In addition, the ICGP has produced a Quick Reference Guide (based on iRefer Guidelines) which is accessible via the ICGP website QRG section

QUICK REFERENCE GUIDE

TITLE Referrals for Diagnostic Imaging:
A Practical Guide for General Practitioners

AUTHORS Dr Niamh Murphy, Dr Geoff McCombe, Dr Jonathan McNulty, Dr Ronan Fawsitt, Prof Ronan Killeen, Prof Walter Cullen

PUBLISHED May 2023

If you have any questions or feedback in relation to this communication or service, please do not hesitate to contact community.diagnostics@hse.ie.

The community diagnostics schemes are delivered via approved private providers, a list of which can be found on the GP Diagnostics section of the HSE website, along with all other pertinent scheme information, which I ask that you familiarise yourself with.
